

About the Integration Hub

Integrations enable the transfer of data across your technology stack. You can move data into and out of the Treasure Data Platform. You can also move data between databases within the platform (see Treasure Data Data Export Integration).

To facilitate the movement of data, Treasure Data provides a user interface for most integrations.

You can see a full set of integrations from the TD Console, Catalog page.

If you don't use the UI to create a data connector, you can configure a data connection by creating a YAML file.

Treasure Data also offers integrations that do not have a UI implementation, for example, for Bulk Import, drivers, and API-based Webhooks and Postbacks.
